NAAC Question 8 –

How does the college effectively reflect leadership in various practices like decentralization and participative management?

Answer

College identifies and nurtures the leadership skills in students and helps to motivate decentralization process and participative management. In order to meet the required result, college appoints class representative(C R) in every class. College always tries to instill the spirit of leadership in our youth (students) by addressing various local, national and International issues. Various activities like Youth Parliament, Nehru Yuva Kendra, live telecast of Budget sessions etc promote student's attention towards positive politics. Student's participation in various debate competition and involvement in managing and completing many tasks, reflect their leadership qualities. Various committees are made in college to ensure their participation.
