

Govt. Girls College Tonk Raj.

Two best practice

1. Celebration of National Day

The college celebrates national festivals, birth and death anniversaries of Indian leaders with great pomp. This creates awareness and inculcate national spirit into the minds of students leading to comprehensive personality Besides independence day and republic day, other national days like Gandhi Jayanti, martyr's day, vivekanand Jayanti, Ambedkar Jayanti, patel Jayanti etc. are celebrated with great enthusiasm, Besides academics, these celebrations keep the interest level high in college and give students memorable moments which they cherish for the lifetime.

2. Tree Plantation

Tree plantation is a very good practice being followed in our college every year. The main purpose is to create awareness among students about environmental conversation and reduce pollution to restore global warming. Students show great enthusiasm as they know it would enhance tree cover on campus. This beautification of campus create responsibility in students to water them and take care of trees thus making life of future generations secure.

Govt. Girls College Tonk Raj.

Institutional distinctiveness

The institutional distinctiveness is in imparting quality education to the girl students, majority of which belongs to the deprived section of society, The institute cultivates their diverse skills and capacities so as to put them on the path of success. These girls are actually human capitals for the next generation and are the best investment for the family, community and country. The institute provide quality education, experimental learning opportunities, smart technology which contribute to the expanded vision of girls and results in building strong leaders of the country

The conducive environment of the institute help the girls to become economically productive, contribute to peaceful and democratic societies and enhance individual well being.