The College:

Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar Government College, Sri Ganganagar is a pioneer co-educational institution in the region to provide opportunities of education to students coming from rural and economically weaker sections of the society in and around Sri Ganganagar. It was initially established as a Secondary School in 1939 by Maharaja Ganga Singh. It was promoted to an Intermediate College in 1946, and graduated to a higher seat of learning in 1954 as Graduation College in Arts and in 1960 with Graduation in Science. The Post Graduation studies began in the college in 1968. The name of the college was changed from Government College to Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar Government College in 2009 by the orders of the State Government. The college was initially affiliated to University of Rajasthan, Jaipur; in 1987 the affiliation was shifted to M.D.S. University, Ajmer. Later on by the orders of the Government of Rajasthan, it was affiliated to the University of Bikaner (presently named as Maharaja Ganga Singh University, Bikaner) in 2003.

The institution aims to educate the young individuals to learn to surmount their weaknesses and limitations and set themselves on the way to the discovery of their potentialities of illumination, service and harmony. A substantive part of the enrolment comes from semi-urban and rural locales of the district. They undergo a dynamic and humanizing process of education before stepping into the tough competitive world. The institution encourages dialogic relations between teachers and pupils, taking into consideration their past limitations yet immense intellectual resources. The students are encouraged to rise above their localized milieu and possess a universal approach to become a part of mainstream education. Their limitation of acquiring proficiency in English language, their lack of confidence, their personalities over coloured with the local colouring undergo an educational conditioning in the institution to finally make them emerge as balanced citizens of the country. Being accredited with “B” grade twice consecutively bears testimony to its illustrious and glorified history, growth, development and achievements over the years.

Institutional Distinctiveness:

Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar Government College, Sri Ganganagar, has had a meteoric rise since its inception and has developed into a premier institution of education in north Rajasthan. It is spread over 28 acres of land; boasts of a multi faculty co-educational post graduate studies in 09 subjects and supervision for the degree of Ph.D by 6 Departments. It has 43 (02 adhoc under SFS) faculty members, aided by 12 non-teaching staff members(19 adhoc under SFS), and an enrolment of over 3400 regular students. The college outreaches to the widest range of rural as well as urban youth. The curriculum of the institution lays appropriate emphasis on curricular and co-curricular activities. It attempts to develop all-rounded personalities through teaching, well equipped library and laboratories, sports, NSS, NCC, Rover Scout, Red Ribbon Club, Women Cell, Planning Forum, English Language Club along with cultural, literary and academic activities.

Other than this the College is highly conscious towards environment and issues related to environment and environment awareness. The NSS, NCC, Women Cell also conduct Awareness programmes, debates and rallies on Road Safety, AIDS, Seasonal Diseases, female infanticide, water conservation, save girl child, and human values regularly. YDC, Placement cell, and Skill development cell organizes lectures for skill enhancement, career guidance, placements, coaching for competitive exams, research, innovations and social service. Medical Camps, blood donation camps, Swachh Bharat and various awareness programmes are also among the best practices of the institute.
