A Brief Abstract of the Event

One day Educational tour was organized by Department of Zoology, Maa Jalpa Devi Government College Taranagar on “Biodiversity of Tal Chhapar Wildlife Sanctuary” on the date 24 January 2020. Tal Chhapar Sanctuary is located in Tal Chhapar village of Sujangarh tehsil of Rajasthan. It is located about 130 km away from Taranagar. It is famous for Black buck and also home to a variety of birds. The tour comprised students of M.Sc. Zoology, accompanied by Head Department of Zoology, Mr. Hans Raj Parihar and faculty members. Near about 38 students are participated in this educational tour. The Forest Ranger of the Sanctuary Mr. Yogendra Singh Rathore gave detailed information about the life style, breeding period, parental care, habit and habitat, etc. about black buck. After this the students and faculty members visited the Sanctuary. All the participants closely observed the rich biodiversity of the sanctuary. Students collected data related to the biodiversity of the sanctuary for study. This tour is very informative and knowledgeable for the P.G. Students.
