A photograph of a physics laboratory. In the foreground, a student in a blue shirt and glasses is seated at a desk. Behind her, several other students are seated at desks, some looking towards the camera. The desks are equipped with various physics apparatus, including a spring scale, a pendulum, and a circuit board. The room has white walls, a blue door, and a whiteboard. The ceiling is white with a grid pattern and has several ceiling fans. The lighting is bright, and the overall atmosphere is that of a typical classroom or laboratory.
