National Webinar on Impact of Social Media on Indian Society

In the age of digital communication we are connected to each other on various platforms of social media via internet, namely : Email, Facebook, Whatsapp, Instagram, Twitter; You Tube, Chats, OTTs and many more. All these have emerged as powerful force in creating a new form of 'global community' which is distanced from their actual surroundings and realities. During the ongoing pandemic these systems of communication have become important, and indispensable for professional and commercial reasons. However, social media has changed the way we live, think, act, shop, consume and sale products.

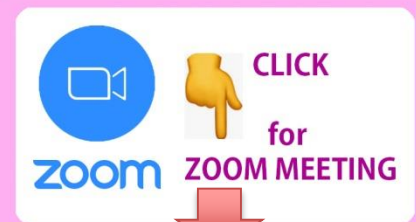

Its power lies in the way social media connects people across the globe instantly and dissolving boundaries of nation-state, classes, races, gender and castes

Social media is important in connecting us instantly, providing us new opportunities which were unthinkable earlier. Despite all this, the main concern is that do we need such kind of hyper connectivity 24x7 ?

This webinar aims to discuss important issues of equal access of technology, surveillance and personal data protection with reference to Indian society. Trauma, anxiety and depression related to online bullying are equally important areas to be looked at.
