- To maintain the regularity of classes which at times is halted due to the implementation of government schemes, examinations of various types or any other reasons, is a challenge which should be overcome anyway by taking formal and informal steps. Of course, the heads of faculties should manage teachers from among the available ones in lieu of the absent teachers.
- The automation of the library is in progress. The reading room is facilitated with computers and internet facility. Many of the e-resources are free of subscription and some, like DELNET are subscribed by the college. For sure, more resources should be invested in reference books and journals as suggested by the faculty members.

It would be taken care that meetings of committees are held in Post Meridian hours save urgent ones.

- Implementation of wholesome education and inclusion of technology to larger extent is the vision of the NEP 2020 and the enhancement of the overall technology related physical resources is the most coveted target of the college.
- The service of the physical teachers and coaches is made available by the department of secondary education time and again. Their appointment on contractual or regular basis a matter under the jurisprudence of the Commissionerate, college education and is a welcome step.
- Career counselling and employment programs are regularly organized in the campus. Employment oriented extension programs are held in collaboration of the state and central government and other agencies. More avenues in this direction are trying to be found out and tried upon.
- The role of the teacher in counselling, mentoring and encouraging students for co- and extra-curricular activities for the development of a composite personality of the students, is the most crucial aspect of the higher education institutions. With extended support from the college, in finance, facilities and personnel, the faculties should create a friendly environment which is wholesome and inspiring for the students.
