

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

Our institution is headed by effective leadership under principal. Institution ensures that principal being at the helm of power is duly helped, cooperated and coordinated by teaching and non-teaching staff. Every year at the starting of the session various committees are formed for decentralisation of work and management. These committees are headed by a convenor and various teaching and non teaching staff as members. When ever a new task comes upfront a committee is formed to get it completed on time. This sort of decentralisation of work and power helps in proper functioning of the institution.

Recently formulated alumni association is also part of participative management. They suggest and help in making the institution better than before. Their experience, guidance and financial help is crucial to the functioning of the instutituion. There is another instance of participative management as the institution is nodal in the region, it ensures to deploys its faculty in near by colleges for teaching and non teaching work under race scheme. Over and above Commissionerate College Education keeps guiding the institution regarding various activities of admission, scholarships, implementation of governmental programme and policies. It also ensures that institution never deviates from its moto, vision and mission.
