Q 2 Write a paragraph on 'Pollution'

Ans: Pollution means introduction of undesirable material in our environment and habitat. It is mainly of three types: water, air, soil pollution.

The main causes of pollution are:

- ① Rising industrialisation.
- ② Rising overpopulation.
- ③ Lack of sustainable development programme.
- ④ Deforestation.

Rising industrialisation is creating a humongous amount of wastes everyday and that too of new varieties which are affecting our environment in several harmful ways such as global warming, ozone depletion, acid rain etc.

The effects of pollution are devastating and the condition is deteriorating with time. The growing population is causing several diseases from simple influenza to cancer and causing world wide problems like food scarcity.

It is an established fact that India is one of the most heavily polluted countries in the world and if the problem of pollution is not solved then one day just like mineral water bottles, we will have to buy oxygen canisters for our survival.
